FOREWORD

The Pontifical Academy of St. Thomas Aquinas, following the practice of other such Academies, is publishing this year its own Year Book. This volume seeks to be a visiting card for the Academy. It provides information on all the Academicians, arranged in various categories, in line with the statutes, which are also published in this work. The Ordinary Academicians, appointed by the Holy See, receive the greatest space – for each one of them a photograph is published, a brief curriculum, and their distinctions. This honour is justified because upon each one of them falls the onus of the progress of the Academy.

The publication of this Year Book was much requested. Institutions, as well as families, will come to know about the Academy through the men and women who are its members. The Pontifical Academy of St. Thomas Aquinas belongs to yesterday, and is also called to be of today and tomorrow. It was established by Leo XIII on 8 May 1890 as a means by which to implement the cultural project indicated in his encyclical Aeterni Patris. For a hundred years the Academy has been loyal, with dignity, to the project and cultural mission that was conferred upon it. In 1998 Pope John Paul II published the encyclical Fides et Ratio, and in 1999 his motu proprio Inter Munera Academiarum reformed the statutes of the Academy. With this last document a new period for the Academy began, which could be called ‘the second stage’.

The Year Book is a witness to this second spring of the Academy. The well consolidated doctrinal tradition makes possible the next leap forward. The future requires renewal. Here we are dealing with the need to give new life to the Academy, which has many past achievements to its name. The number of Ordinary Members has been raised from forty to fifty. At the present moment that latter number has been filled, and the Ordinary Members are presented in this Year Book one by one.

Through the Year Book, the reader can gain an idea of who the Academicians are and learn about the cultural function of the Academy. Three things stand out about the Academicians in this publication: their scholarly expertise, their respective specialisations, and their international origins. The division between those resident in Rome and those elsewhere has been eliminated because the means of communication have by now broken down all the barriers of local distance; a certain number of lady Academician are also listed, because as Vatican Council II observed, the hour has arrived for the cultural presence of women; and not only are there members who are specialists in philosophy and theology, there are also others from other fields of culture and learning. Special attention has been paid to the Academy's mission of dialogue. The universality of the Church is here represented by the fact that the members of the Academy come from the different continents of the world. The numerus clausus is a limitation; as a result we cannot include within the Academy many other people who have to the full the qualifications to be members.

The encyclical Fides et Ratio proposes St. Thomas Aquinas not only as a model for those who search for truth, but also as a teacher for those who place reason at the service of the Catholic faith. Each of the Academician feels called to imitate him. Imitation has in itself a creative and personal function, as was the case with St. Thomas, who always professed that Christ was the truth, and from his first lesson he deemed our Lord the Doctor Doctorum.

The Academy has conferred upon it a dual task: to know and to communicate in our time the truth that the Catholic faith professes, in the different fields of learning, philosophy and theology. In order to carry out this task, the Academy organises annual plenary sessions, international conferences, publishes its review Doctor Communis, and issues volumes in its series of publications. In addition, each member must be conscious of his duty to seek out and to propose new members, as well as to make suggestions for the improvement of the organisation and the working of the Academy.

In this way, the personal task of each of its members enriches the Academy, and the splendour of the Academy is bestowed on each of the members. St. Albert the Great coined the ideal formula for every Academy: In dulcedine societatis quaerere veritatem. The acquisition of truth is also a shared endeavour.

This Year Book seeks to be a means by which to know the personality of each of the members of the Academy, so that it will be possible to enter into contact with each one of them. It is also an instrument for the cultural diffusion of, and dialogue with, St. Thomas Aquinas, Doctor Humanitatis, in order to encounter truth.

At the same time, I here extend a greeting to each and every one of the distinguished members of the Academy and I welcome them to the Year Book. I would like in particular to thank the Secretary Prelate, Msgr. Marcelo Sánchez Sorondo, and his staff, for the efforts they have made in collecting together all the material necessary to this publication. This was not an easy undertaking:

Bonum ex integra causa. An expression of gratitude is due above all else to His Holiness Pope John Paul II, who made possible the renewal of the Academy and follows it with especial care and interest. A word of thanks also to Cardinal Paul Poupard for the interest he takes in the progress of the Academy.

May Saint Thomas always walk with us!

THE ACADEMY: A HISTORICAL PROFILE

The Pontifical Academy of St. Thomas Aquinas was established on 15 October 1879 by Leo XIII, who approved its statutes with his 'Breve' of 9 May 1895. The Academy was then confirmed by St. Pius X with his apostolic letter of 23 January 1904 and enlarged by Benedict XV on 31 December 1914. John Paul II then reformed the Academy on 28 January 1999 by his apostolic letter Inter Munera Academiarum, issued shortly after the encyclical Fides et Ratio. The Pontifical Academy of St. Thomas Aquinas carries out a specific mission, which is to carry out research into, to defend, and to disseminate the doctrine of the Angelic Doctor, and, taking due account of contemporary cultural traditions, 'to develop further this part of Thomistic doctrine which deals with humanity, given that his assertions on the dignity of the human person and the use of his reason, in perfect harmony with the faith, make St. Thomas a teacher for our time' (Inter Munera Academiarum, n. 4). In this apostolic letter John Paul II invites us to refer to the encyclical Aeterni Patris in which Leo XIII, reproposing the doctrine of Vatican Council I, emphasised the urgent need to show 'how philosophical thinking contributes in fundamental ways to faith and theological learning' (Fides et Ratio, n. 57). The Pope gathers the fruits of the large-scale movement, which, from the nineteenth century to the threshold of the third millennium, led philosophers to deepen metaphysical research into the ultimate questions regarding man and the mystery of the human person himself. Then, taking into account the importance of the human sciences, their contribution to knowledge regarding man, and the new questions generated by scientific research, directed towards a deeper knowledge concerning the mystery of man, the Pontiff invites the Academicians to follow the indications on the subject proposed by Vatican Council II, as well as the guidelines that he himself has constantly proposed to the Church, ever since his first encyclical whose beginning – Redemptor Hominis – made clear the chief direction of his pontificate.

THE OBJECTIVES OF THE PONTIFICAL ACADEMY OF ST. THOMAS AQUINAS ARE TO:

- carry out research into, to explain and to disseminate the teaching of St. Thomas Aquinas
- propose St. Thomas Aquinas as a model Christian teacher, researcher into truth, lover of good, and scholar of all learning
- be at the service of all the teaching of St. Thomas Aquinas in accord with the Christian tradition and the Magisterium of the Church, especially as set out in the encyclicals Aeterni Patris and Fides et Ratio
- explain, in as much as this is possible, the mystery of health and the analogical connections between its internal articles of faith according to the thinking of St. Thomas Aquinas; honouring, thereby, at the same time, his title, Doctor Communis
- encourage interaction between faith and reason, and foster increasing dialogue between the sciences, philosophy, and theology
- co-operate with the members of other Academies in a friendly spirit to promote Christian philosophy and theology
- recognise excellence in Thomistic philosophy and theology
- stimulate international interaction between scholars of St. Thomas Aquinas and his work
- further the role of Thomistic thought in society
- promote education in Thomist studies and the public's understanding of the ideas of St. Thomas Aquinas
- encourage research into the work and thought of St. Thomas Aquinas

ACADEMIC POSITIONS AND AWARDS

Ph. D. Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam. Research Fellow of the Pontifical Institute of Medieval Studies in Toronto. Professor of Philosophy at the Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam (1984-1994). Visiting Professor at the Catholic University of Leuven. Since 1994 Director of the Thomas-Institute at the University of Cologne. Vice-President of the "Société Internationale pour l'Etude de la Philosophie Médiévale". Cardinal Mercier Lectures at the Catholic University of Leuven; Dietrich von Hildebrand Memorial Lectures at Fordham University, New York; Directeur invité à l'Ecole Pratique des Hautes Etudes, Paris.

SUMMARY OF SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

My research is focussed on three areas of medieval philosophy: 1) The thought of Thomas Aquinas, in particular his metaphysics. 2) The doctrine of the transcendental notions "being", "one", "true" and "good". The project has a historical and a systematic aspect. It investigates the history of the doctrine from its beginning in the thirteenth century (Philip the Chancellor's Summa de bono) to the Disputationes metaphysicae of Francisco Suarez (1597), which form the bridge to the transcendental tradition in modern philosophy. The project also inquires into the systematic importance of the doctrine for philosophy in general. 3) A reconstruction of Meister Eckart's Opus propositionum. As Eckhart himself indicates, "The Work of Propositions" provided the foundation of the two other parts of his Opus tripartitum. However, the work has not come down to us. The project aims at a reconstruction of this basic work.

SUMMARY OF SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

After graduating in physics at the University of Barcelona, Spain (1960), in my doctoral dissertation in philosophy at the Lateran University, Rome (1963), I examined the value of the classical notion of substance when applied in the microphysical world. Then, in my doctoral dissertation in physics at the University of Barcelona (1968), I examined the structure of Newtonian physics. In the following years I moved to epistemological questions, especially in relation to Karl Popper, and presented a doctoral dissertation in philosophy at the University of Barcelona (1979) on the “Reliability of Science and its Philosophical Impact”. I published my first book, a summary and critical analysis of the epistemology of Popper, in 1979. In the last twenty years I have tried to develop a Thomistic outlook which, taking into account and using as a base the progress of modern science, may serve to explain the realist character and the metaphysical capacity of human knowledge, avoiding the excesses of scientism on the one hand and of a philosophy disconnected from science on the other. I first published the results of my investigation in 1989 (philosophy of science) and 1992 (philosophy of nature). In these works the results of science and epistemology are not only incorporated: they are an important part of the base of the entire work, which tries to redefine classical philosophical problems and solutions in the present context. In recent years, I have applied these results to the new emerging field of the relationship between science and religion, and I have published a proposal for a fruitful dialogue based on the analysis of the general presuppositions of empirical science and the feedback of scientific progress in relation to them (1999). I continue to work on these problems, and I am also working on a new book on Galileo.

MOST IMPORTANT AWARDS, PRIZES AND ACADEMIES

Corresponding Fellow of the Accademia Nazionale dei Lincei (Rome) and Member of the Institut International de Philosophie (Paris); Fellow of the Istituto Veneto di Scienze, Lettere e Arti and the Accademia Galileiana di Scienze, Lettere e Arti in Padua.

SUMMARY OF SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

The first subject of my research was the philosophy of Aristotle, which has continued to be central to my interests. I then extended my studies to the Aristotelian tradition in ancient, medieval, modern and contemporary times, with particular attention to dialectics and the problem of contradiction. More recently I have discussed the possibilities of metaphysics within contemporary philosophy and dedicated myself to problems of ethics and political philosophy.

CURRENT PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITY

Professor, Philosophy Department, Universidad Simón Bolívar.

BRIEF ACCOUNT OF SCIENTIFIC ACTIVITY

The main subjects of my research, on the philosophy of Saint Thomas, have been the acts of the human spirit, where anthropological and metaphysical questions come together. At the same time, the study of the anthropology of Vatican Council II – following the teachings of His Holiness John Paul II – led me in the same direction. On the other hand, I have studied the cultural situation of my own country in order to understand the conditions of intellectual life in Latin America as well as to meet the challenges posed by that cultural situation.

SUMMARY OF SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

Major research topics: Philosophical anthropology. In particular: the place of man in the world, the hierarchical order among the levels of human experience and the main role played in developing experience by the concept of integrity (integritas), by realism ('principle of reality') and by intersubjectivity ('principle of charity'). Philosophy of religion. In particular: the synthetic role of the religious sense in human experience, theological personalism, the topics of assent and of religious pluralism. Metaphysics. In particular: the connection between the metaphysics of esse and personalism, the topic of metaphysics and violence in the 'age of nihilism', final causes facing the challenge of evolutionism. Ethics. In particular: the connection between the ethics of virtue and ethics of law, 'the ethics of reason', dealing with the development and fulfilment of human experience, and the relationship between theoretical and practical reason, and epistemic and ethical virtues. I have studied these topics particularly in Aquinas, Augustine, Hobbes, and Newman, in twentieth-century Thomism, and in contemporary analytical philosophy of religion.

SUMMARY OF SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

The main theme of my research has been in the area of sacramental and moral theology, and on the relationship of the moral life with other truths of Catholic and divine faith. Building on the studies done in the immediate post-conciliar period by my mentor Dominican Father Colman O'Neill, my earliest research (1980s) concentrated on Christian satisfaction, the sacrament of Reconciliation, and the Eucharist. After a period of teaching moral theology, I undertook research on the moral and theological virtues and their pertinence to contemporary issues in Christian ethics. To complement these initiatives, I returned to the Thomist commentator tradition and in particular to the anti-nominalist writings of the fifteenth-century Dominican John Capreolus.

MOST IMPORTANT AWARDS, PRIZES AND ACADEMIES

Premio di operosità scientifica da parte dell'Università di Perugia (1972 circa); Accademico dell'“Istituto di Studi storici Pio IX” (11/02/2000).

SUMMARY OF SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

Laureato in Lettere nell'Università di Roma (1964) e in Filosofia in quella di Genova (1968), ho tentato di approfondire lo studio e la comprensione del tomismo essenziale alla luce degl'insegnamenti fondamentali di Cornelio Fabro. Ho tentato, altresì, di approfondire la meditazione teoretica sulla radicale alternativa fra tomismo e umanesimo immanentistico.

de Margerie Bertrand, S.J.

Date and place of birth: 23 February 1923, Paris, France.

Appointment to the Academy: 15 March 2000.

Scientific discipline: Dogmatic Theology.

Academic title: Doctor in Theology.

ACADEMIC CAREER

Bertrand de Margerie was born in 1923, in Paris, to a family of diplomats. His grandfather and brother Emmanuel represented France in the United States at both ends of the twentieth century. His brother was also ambassador to London and his father was ambassador to the Holy See. He entered the Society of Jesus in 1946 and was ordained a priest in 1956. After his studies in Europe he spent about twelve years in Brazil and in the United States, teaching theology or writing about it. He has a doctorate in theology from the Gregorian University in Rome, with a thesis on the German-American Protestant theologian Reinhold Niebuhr and his thought on world temporal community. Father de Margerie has published about twenty books, particularly on the Sacraments of Penance and the Eucharist. He is a member of the French and American Societies of Marian Studies, of the International Society of Patristic Studies (he has also published four volumes on Patristic exegesis, describing the specific exegetical method of about twenty-five Greek and Latin Fathers of the Church), and of the Pontifical Roman Academy of St. Thomas Aquinas, Rome. He has collaborated many times with the L'Osservatore Romano. Pope Paul VI, in an audience of March 1972, quoted his book on Christ for the World (L'Oss. Rom., 30 March 1972) later published in English by the Franciscan Herald Press (Chicago, 1974). He now resides in Paris.

PROMOTION OF THE BOOK: "HEART OF MARY, HEART OF THE CHURCH"

This short book on the Heart of Mary wants to link a topic dear to many Catholics, particularly to the pilgrims of Fatima, with the understanding, shared by a good number of Russian Orthodox and Latin theologians, of the mission of Mary in the Church: that she is the Heart of the Mystical Body of Christ. This link is considered in the context of each one of the events and the states of life in which the Holiness of Mary was manifested and developed: Virgin, Wife, Mother, Widow. They are contemplated in the light of (apostolic and ecclesiastical) Tradition, Holy Scripture and the Magisterium. Particular attention is given to the abundant teachings of Pope Pius XII and John Paul II when commenting upon the presentation of Mary by the Vatican Council II. The author – a member of the American and French Societies of Marian Studies – has had recourse to the rich works of the international mariological congresses, whose member he has been on different occasions, and to the different liturgies of the Church in the East and in the West. Readers of his works will deepen their knowledge both of the Church and of Mary. Without the Church, we would not know Mary; without knowledge of Mary, our understanding of the Mystery of the Church becomes truncated.

MOST IMPORTANT AWARDS, PRIZES AND ACADEMIES

President, American Catholic Philosophical Association (1992-1993); President, Canadian "Jacques Maritain" Association (1988-1995); Member, Canadian Philosophical Association; Member, Society of Christian Philosophers; Visiting Professor of the Metaphysics of St. Thomas, Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies, Toronto (1983-1989); Visiting Professor of Philosophy (Metaphysics of St. Thomas), Catholic University of America, Washington, D.C. (1990-1997); Master of Sacred Theology (O.P.), 1998.

SUMMARY OF SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

My interest from the beginning has been in the nature of being. The approach (following my teacher, Etienne Gilson) has been historical, focusing primarily on St. Thomas. I wrote a doctoral dissertation in Toronto on the doctrine of being of Johannes Capreolus. Subsequent studies have concentrated on the ineluctable contribution of form and essence for an adequate conception of being. I have also stressed the validity of Thomas's assessment of Aristotle as a source of metaphysical insight, including Thomas's attribution to Aristotle of a doctrine of creation; rejection of this view stems from a conception of being which remains somewhat on the level of physics. However, metaphysical interests lead to studies concerning the nature of knowledge and the foundations of morals. I have also been active in these areas.

SUMMARY OF SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

Professor Forment, disciple of Professor F. Canals, was educated in the Thomist school of Barcelona. Since 1971, in parallel with his teaching, he has engaged in constant and intense research activity, centered almost exclusively on metaphysical subjects. A first line of research has been the metaphysics of the person. Some studies dedicated to some questions and problems relating to ontology and others of natural theology belong to a second line of research into metaphysics in general. The third and last line of research is also metaphysics, but of a historical character because it refers to the study of contemporary metaphysics, especially neoThomist metaphysics. The results have been published in 12 books, 27 joint books, 147 articles in reviews all over the world, 49 papers in national and international congresses, 56 studies in other publications and 900 reviews.

SUMMARY OF SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

The main subject of my research is the truth-value of knowledge at its different levels or meanings: ordinary knowledge, scientific inquiry, and religious belief (especially Christian faith). This subject was developed studying the relationship between Christian faith and philosophy, with an analysis and a critique of the opinions held around the year 1931 in France by rationalist scholars (such as Emile Bréhier and Léon Brunschvicg) in relation to Catholic philosophers (such as Etienne Gilson, Jacques Maritain, and Maurice Blondel) in the well known discussion about ‘Christian philosophy’. The opinions of other Catholic philosophers, who were in disagreement with Maritain and Gilson because of their alleged ‘fideism’, were also analysed. The conclusions of this research was an idea of philosophy which is exactly what Aquinas taught and expounded in his own times and with his own language – an intellectual work which is as distant from rationalism as it is from scepticism since it possesses a consciousness both of its own possibilities and of its own limits. According to this notion of philosophy as an ‘open system’, the positive influence of Christian revelation on the development of truly philosophical research is not only a reasonable abstract possibility, but also a matter of fact given the results of historical inquiry into philosophy as developed from the second century of the Christian age to the twentieth century. After reaching these conclusions, my studies dealt with the foundation of truth according to contemporary logic and the philosophy of language. In this field, I discovered the great relevance of the notion of ‘common sense’, originally created by modern philosophers such as Claude Buffier, Thomas Reid, and Giambattista Vico, and developed after them by Friedrich Jacobi, Jaime Balmes, John Henry Newman, Charles Sanders Peirce, and Reginald Garrigou-Lagrange. With contemporary philosophers, the epistemological value of common sense was rediscovered by other philosophers such as Hannah Arendt and Hans-Georg Gadamer in Germany, Mortimer Adler in the United States of America, Jacques Maritain and Etienne Gilson in France, and Enrico Castelli and Luigi Pareyson in Italy. Upon the basis of their studies, I have attempted to build up a complete theory of common sense, including a demonstration of its real presence in the background to all human knowledge, and a demonstration of its performative action in the life of the mind when dealing with truth. This theory is a useful logical means by which to demonstrate the primacy of experience in relation to science, as well as the absolute need for rational human premises for the understanding and acceptance God’s revelation, as expounded by John Paul II’s Encyclical, Fides et Ratio.

SUMMARY OF SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

In recent years, my research and studies have focused mainly on the comparison between concepts of 'being' in Western metaphysics and those of 'Tao' in Chinese philosophy. Based upon metaphysics, I have probed the idea of 'humanism', an issue which is highly valued and acrimoniously disputed by Chinese philosophers. On the one hand, I have reviewed and criticised modern and contemporary concepts of 'humanism', which are largely based upon atheism. In contrast to traditional culture and religious beliefs, 'man' has become the sole concern as a result of the impact and influence of contemporary Western concepts of 'humanism'. On the other hand, I have attempted to establish a system or principle for universal and integrated 'humanism' or a 'humanistic spirit', which includes the metaphysics of 'being' and 'Tao', ethics, the philosophy of religion, natural theology, and even the revelation theology of the Catholic Church. I will discuss these issues within the context of the socio-historical background to Chinese culture. The discussions will be collected and printed in the forthcoming book entitled ‘The Universal Humanism and Chinese Society’.

MOST IMPORTANT AWARDS, PRIZES AND ACADEMIES

Entrato nella Congregazione della Missione il 31 Novembre 1951. Ordinato Sacerdote a Piacenza il 5 Luglio 1953. Baccelleriato in S. Teologia nel Pontificio Ateneo “Angelicum” (1953), Dottorato in Filosofia (1956) e in Scienze sociali (1960) nel medesimo Ateneo. Professore di filosofia teoretica, di storia della filosofia contemporanea, di sociologia al Collegio Alberoni, nei sei anni accademici (1969-1974) ha svolto un corso semestrale nella Pontificia Università S. Tommaso (Roma) nel campo dell’Etica e sociologia della famiglia. Direttore della rivista “Divus Thoma” (Piacenza, 1963-1992). Professore di Filosofia della Natura e incaricato del corso di storia dell’ateismo al Collegio Alberoni.

SUMMARY OF SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

L’ufficio di Direttore di un’importante rivista di filosofia e teologia ad indirizzo tomista (“Divus Thomas”, Piacenza) gli ha offerto l’opportunità e in certo senso lo ha messo nella necessità di prendere come oggetto delle sue ricerche e pubblicazioni, rilevanti problemi nati nel PostConcilio; tra questi, in modo particolare, il posto che dovrebbe essere attribuito alla dottrina di S. Tommaso nella Chiesa di fronte al “pluralismo” filosofico e teologico proposto da molti autori cattolici come nuovo parametro della ricerca scientifica in filosofia e in teologia. Negli anni di insegnamento alla Pontificia Università di S. Tommaso ha cercato di attuare una rinnovata presentazione dell’etica tomista del matrimonio e della famiglia mettendola a confronto con le attuali ricerche e tendenze sociologiche e antropologiche nel campo del matrimonio, della famiglia, dell’attività sessuale. I risultati delle sue ricerche sono stati pubblicati in sei volumi di dispense universitarie (Facoltà di Filosofia della Pontificia Università di S. Tommaso) e in saggi usciti in riviste e Atti di Congressi. Nell’ultimo periodo il suo interesse si è esteso, più specificamente che non in passato, al campo della teologia, con pubblicazioni dalle quali appaiono assai chiaramente la validità e l'efficacia della dottrina filosofico-teologica tomista per una presentazione della fede cattolica agli uomini di oggi. Nel suo lungo curriculum di ricercatore e di scrittore non è però mai mancato anche l'interesse per i temi di filosofia speculativa e di storia del pensiero contemporaneo, come appare dall'elenco delle principali pubblicazioni.

SUMMARY OF SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

Su labor investigadora ha afrontado momentos capitales de la gran tradición eclesiológica. Cabe destacar tres de ellos: Concilio Vaticano II, Trento y el Catecismo Romano, Tomás de Aquino, que permitían a los alumnos captar tres momentos capitales de la reflexión eclesiológica. En este ámbito se inscribe una obra singular dentro de esta tarea investigadora: la edición crítica del Catecismo Romano, que un equipo de investigadores de la Universidad de Navarra preparó bajo su dirección durante cuatro años y vio finalmente la luz en Roma: Catechismus Romanus seu

Catechismus ex decreto Concilii Tridentini ad Parochos, Pii Quinti Pont. Max. iussu editus. Editioni praefuit Petrus Rodríguez. Romae 1989, LXXX + 1378 pp. La edición se hizo posible gracias al descubrimiento de los manuscritos originales, que tuvo lugar en la Biblioteca Vaticana, 26 de abril de 1985, en el Cod. Vat. Lat. 4994. A partir del acervo documental movilizado entonces, se forja otra línea de investigación sobre los contextos eclesiales, políticos y culturales de la teología y la espiritualidad del siglo XVI. Actualmente, la investigación que promueve en sus seminarios se concentra en el estudio de la estructura fundamental de la Iglesia y cuestiones de teología ecuménica: la eclesiología de comunión, las relaciones Iglesia universal/Iglesias particulares, sacramentalidad de la Iglesia.

MOST IMPORTANT AWARDS, PRIZES AND ACADEMIES

He was ordained a priest on 7 December 1968 in the archdiocese of Buenos Aires. At the St. Thomas Aquinas University of Rome he was awarded a Ph.D. in sacred theology – the highest level of Church postgraduate studies – with summa cum laude (1974). He also gained an undergraduate degree in philosophy at the University of Perugia, obtaining the highest possible marks (1976). From 1976 to 1998 he was lecturer in the history of philosophy at the Lateran University in Rome where from 1982 onwards he was full professor in the same discipline. He was Dean of the Faculty of Philosophy at the same university for three consecutive terms from 1987 to 1996. Since 1998 he has been Full Professor of the History of Philosophy at the Libera Università Maria SS. Assunta (Rome) and in the same year was appointed president of the degree course in education sciences. In November 1998 he was appointed Chancellor of the Pontifical Academy of Sciences and of the Pontifical Academy of Social Sciences by Pope John Paul II. In March 1999 the Pope also appointed him Secretary Prelate of the Pontifical Academy of St. Thomas Aquinas. On 19 March 2001 His Holiness John Paul II consecrated him titular Bishop of Vescovìo.

SUMMARY OF SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

My early work centred around an innovative examination of the primary function of the idea of participation in the core theological approach of St. Thomas Aquinas, especially with regard to the crucial point of the question of the ‘participation (of man) in the divine nature’ (2 Pt 1:4). The main and new conclusion was that man, because he is free, i.e. causa sui, is his own cause in the order of the re-creation not only of his own growth but also of the communication (κοινωνία) of divine grace to another human being, to a ‘you’ who freely wants that grace. As a subsequent follower of the contemporary philosophical current which seeks the ‘rehabilitation’ of Aristotle, I emphasised that the ‘Stagirite’ was the first to expound a positive notion of spiritual reality beginning with the human experience of superior activities such as feeling, thinking, wanting and enjoying. Aristotle did this through his meta-categories of power (δύναμις) and energy (ἐνέργεια) which, although they serve initially to explain movement, subsequently allow a metaphysical explanation of the living human subject, of the suffering and acting ‘self’ – a question discussed in detail by modern philosophy. Drawing upon the most recent developments in critical research into the structure of the thought of Aristotle (N. Hartman, P. Ricoeur and my teacher C. Fabro), I examined the different interpretations of this philosopher, especially those propounded during the Medieval period by Thomas Aquinas and during the modern era by Hegel. In his Encyclopaedia (§ 482) Hegel rightly observes that no concept has been more subject to misunderstanding than that of freedom, which expresses the essence of the spirit. This was the new anthropological idea that the classical world, including Aristotle, was light years away from. For this reason, I recently argued, ‘realised freedom’ or freedom achieved by the truth (John Paul II) became the new criterion for the hermeneutics of history, culture and religions. I also proposed that realised freedom, as a real quality of the human being and not mere potentiality, should be the criterion to be employed in the analysis of Christian history.

SUMMARY OF SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

Following my dual background in classical philology and philosophy at the University of Munich (Germany), forty years ago, my research has concentrated on three fields: firstly, the classical authors (Plato, Aristotle, Plotinus, St. Augustine, St. Thomas Aquinas and others) and their metaphysics, natural philosophy, epistemology, ethics and anthropology. Secondly, general ethics and some special disciplines (bioethics and others), maintaining always anthropology and metaphysics as their foundation, which I consider indispensable for the defence of normative ethics (founded in human nature or essence). Thirdly, metaphysics and epistemology in their relationship with modern criticism (from Descartes and Kant to Brentano, Dilthey, Husserl and Heidegger). Adjacent fields of my research have been the philosophy of arts (with literary criticism) and the philosophy of religion, the latter in dialogue with Japanese colleagues (about Nishida, Nishitani and others).

SUMMARY OF SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

The main themes of my philosophical and theological research are the relationship between nature and grace according to Thomas Aquinas; human nature and the necessity of revelation and faith; the nature and character of the Summa contra gentiles; and St. Thomas in general. My concern has been, and is, to distinguish between two kinds of autonomy: autonomy by defect and autonomy by perfection or nobility. And to show that nature has in grace and the supernatural its only and necessary completion and fulfilment.

SUMMARY OF SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

My research interests focus on the problems of God and religion. Against the background of prevailing attitudes in contemporary philosophical reflection upon God and religion, I point to the irreplaceable value of a metaphysical cognition of God, although I also strive to provide an epistemological and methodological background to my position. Another focus of my interest is the problem of God’s transcendence and immanence in relation to the world, as considered in the classical theory of a participation. To this particular problem I devoted a separate study in which I engage in a dispute with other theorists of participation, such as C. Fabro, Geiger and others. For more than twenty-five years my chief interest has been the phenomenon of religion: its essence, the causes of its existence, the role it plays in human life and in culture. The result of the discussion of these problems, often carried out from a position contrary to other solutions, was the establishment of the philosophy of a religion as a discipline in its own right, set within a wider framework of classical realistic philosophy. In this framework, philosophy of religion collaborates with anthropology (the theory of personal being) and metaphysics (which brings the personal God into the picture). In this perspective, religion is envisaged as a relationship which relates man to the personal Absolute, recognised by man as the ultimate source of his existence and the Highest Good – the ultimate end of his life, the end that gives a meaning to his existence. In many of my works I also consider the role played by religion in contemporary culture, and the relationship between religion on the one hand, and science, morality, art, and politics on the other.

- c) Conventus Academiae adunatur in sessione plenaria, a Praeside convocata, ad quam, jus participationis solis ordinariis competit.

Art. V.

Academia membris constat ordinariis, emeritis, ad honorem, sic dictis "correspondentibus" et benefactoribus:

- a) Academicci ordinarii – sive viri sive mulieres – philosophi sunt et theologi, qui ob praeclara merita in Aquinatis doctrina excolenda, a Cardinale Secretario Status, sub rogationem Academiae Consilii, nominantur; hujus categoriae membra quinquaginta sint oportet.
- b) titulo emeriti decorantur academicci qui octagesimum annum expleverunt ideoque voce activa carent.
- c) Academicci ad honorem designari possunt a Praeside, audito Consilio, viri et mulieres, in vita Ecclesiae aut in cultura egregii.
- d) Academicci sic dicti "correspondentes" sunt illi qui cum fine et officiis Academiae concordes, doctrinis sancti Thome experti, inter studiosos suis publicationibus noti, aut in aliqua materia excellentes, a Praeside audito Consilio nominantur ut cum Academia collaborent.
- e) Academiae benefactores sunt illi qui munificentia sua ad incepta et impensas egregie cooperantur et a Praeside audito Consilio nominantur.

Art. VI.

Consilii maxime erit, sub ductu Praesidis, Academiam moderari, eius sessiones praeparare, publications promovere, et omnia quae ad vitam Academiae spectant, sedulo curare. Consilium, cum opus sit, regulariter a Praeside convocetur et saltem semel in anno conventum habeat.

Art. VII.

In Academia officia exstant Archivistae et Administratoris. Uterque, Consilio annuente, a Praeside nominatur.

Art. VIII.

Academiae competit:

- a) Congressus internationales statis temporibus celebrare, a Praeside convocatos auditio conventu Accademiae, qui tractent de rebus philosophicis et theologicis maximi momenti de mundo, de homine et de Deo in quibus doctrina Sancti Thomae lucide proponatur.
- b) Libros edere de rebus praesertim philosophicis et theologicis necnon ad religionem spectantibus et ad dialogum sapientiale instaurandum, de iudicio Consilii Academiae.
- c) Ephemeridem Academiae promovere, sub moderamine Directoris a Praeside, auditio Consilio, nominati.

Art. IX.

Omnes Academicci, praesertim ordinarii, vitam Academiae participare satagant.

Art. X.

Praeses curat ut singulis annis ea quae ab Academia gesta fuerint Pontificio Consilio de Cultura innotescant.

Item Praeses participare satagat communem omnium Academiarum conventum, qui quotannis peculiari sollemnitate, Pontificio Consilio de Cultura moderante, celebrabitur.

Idem Praeses est membrum Consilii Coordinationis Pontificiarum Academiarum, quo singulae Academiae amico foedere cooptantur.

Art. XI.

Pontifica Academia Sancti Thomae peculiari coniunctionis vinculo Congregationi pro Educatione Catholica adhaeret.

Art. XII.

Administrator Academiae quotannis oeconomicam Academiae relationem Praesidi probandam subiciet, postquam huiusmodi relatio a Consilii sodalibus opportune emendata et confirmata sit.

INTER MUNERA ACADEMIARUM

1. Fra i compiti delle Accademie fondate dai Romani Pontefici nel corso dei secoli, la ricerca in filosofia e teologia occupa il primo posto. Nella mia recente Lettera Enciclica Fides et ratio ho attribuito una grande importanza al dialogo fra la teologia e la filosofia e ho esposto chiaramente il mio apprezzamento sul pensiero di San Tommaso d'Aquino, riconoscendone la perenne novità (cfr. n. 43-44). A buona ragione San Tommaso può essere chiamato "Apostolo della verità" (n. 44). Infatti, l'intuizione del Dottore Angelico consiste nella certezza che esiste una armonia fondamentale fra fede e ragione (cfr. n.43): "E' necessario, dunque, che la ragione del credente abbia una conoscenza naturale, vera e coerente delle cose create, del mondo e dell'uomo, che sono anche oggetto della Rivelazione Divina; ancora di più, essa deve essere in grado di articolare tale conoscenza in modo concettuale e argomentativo" (n.66).

2. All'alba del Terzo Millennio molte condizioni culturali sono cambiate. Si avvertono approfondimenti di grande importanza nel campo dell'antropologia (il darwinismo letteralmente inteso ha trionfato), ma soprattutto dei mutamenti sostanziali nel modo stesso di capire la condizione dell'uomo di fronte a Dio, di fronte agli altri uomini e di fronte alla storia. Innanzitutto la sfida più grande della nostra epoca viene dalla crescente prevaricazione della ragione sulla fede, fra Vangelo e cultura diffusa. Gli studi dedicati a questo immenso campo si moltiplicano giorno dopo giorno nel contesto della nuova evangelizzazione. Infatti l'annuncio della salvezza incontra molti ostacoli derivanti da concetti erronei e da una grave carenza di una adeguata formazione. Ma non è possibile, in una certa misura, non imputare anche alla Chiesa una responsabilità in merito a questo arretramento. Non è un caso che nel corso del mio pontificato la Congregazione per la Dottrina della Fede abbia svolto una rinnovata attività di supervisione della vita intellettuale, correggendo e talvolta anche estirpendo dal corpo sano della Chiesa pericolose contaminazioni.

3. Un secolo dopo la promulgazione della Lettera Enciclica Aeterni Patris del mio Predecessore Leone XIII, che segnò l'inizio di un nuovo sviluppo nel rinnovamento degli studi filosofici e teologici e nei rapporti fra fede e ragione, voglio dare un nuovo impulso alle Pontificie Accademie operanti in questo campo, tenendo conto del pensiero e degli orientamenti attuali, nonchè delle necessità pastorali della Chiesa. E pertanto, riconoscendo l'opera svolta per secoli da parte dei membri della Pontificia Accademia Teologica Romana e della Pontificia Accademia di San Tommaso d'Aquino e di Religione Cattolica, ho deciso di rinnovare gli allegati Statuti di queste Pontificie Accademie, così che con maggior efficacia possano sviluppare il loro impegno in campo filosofico-teologico, per favorire la missione pastorale del Successore di Pietro e della Chiesa universale.

4. La Pontificia Accademia di S. Tommaso d'Aquino.

“Doctor Humanitatis” è il nome che diamo a San Tommaso d’Aquino perché era sempre pronto a cogliere i valori di tutte le culture (Allocuzione ai partecipanti all’VIII Congresso Tomistico Internazionale, 13-9-1980; Insegnamenti, III, 2 [1980] 609). Nelle condizioni culturali del nostro tempo sembra veramente opportuno sviluppare sempre più questa parte della dottrina tomistica che tratta dell’umanità, dato che le sue affermazioni sulla dignità della persona umana e sull’uso della sua ragione, perfettamente consone alla fede, fanno di San Tommaso un maestro per il nostro tempo. Gli uomini, soprattutto nel mondo odierno, sono preoccupati da questo interrogativo: cosa è l'uomo? Usando questo appellativo, “Doctor Humanitatis”, cammino sulle orme del Concilio ecumenico Vaticano II, circa l’uso della dottrina dell’Aquinate sia nella formazione filosofica e teologica dei sacerdoti (Decreto Optatam totius, n. 16), sia nell’approfondire la necessaria corrispondenza tra fede e ragione nelle Università (Dichiarazione Gravissimum educationis, n. 10).

Nella mia Lettera Fides et ratio recentemente pubblicata, ho desiderato ri-evocare l’entusiasmo del mio Predecessore Leone XIII, quando promulgò la Lettera Enciclica che iniziava con le parole “Aeterni Patris” (4 agosto 1879; ASS 11 [1878-1879] 97-115): “Il grande Pontefice riprese e sviluppò l’insegnamento del Concilio Vaticano I sul rapporto fra fede e ragione, mostrando come il pensare filosofico sia un contributo fondamentale per la fede e la scienza teologica, solo nella misura in cui non pretende di prevaricarle. A più di un secolo di distanza, molte indicazioni contenute in quel testo non hanno perso nulla del loro interesse dal punto di vista sia pratico che pedagogico; primo fra tutti, quello re-lativo all'incomparabile valore della filosofia di San Tommaso. La riproposizione del pensiero del Dottore Angelico appariva al papa Leone XIII come la strada migliore per recuperare un uso della filosofia conforme alle esigenze della fede” (Fides et ratio, n.57). Questa Lettera veramente memorabile aveva come titolo Epistula Encyclica de Philosophia Christiana ad mentem Sancti Thomae Aquinatis Doctoris Angelicis in Scholis Catholicis instauranda.

Lo stesso Leone XIII, affinchè le esortazioni di questa Enciclica fossero messe in atto, creò l'Accademia Romana di San Tommaso d'Aquino (Lett. Apost. Iampridem ad Em.mum Card. Antoninum De Luca, 15-X-1879). L'anno seguente, lieto dell'inizio dei lavori, scrisse ai Cardinali preposti alla nuova Accademia (Litt. Apost. 21-XI-1880). Dopo 15 anni approvò gli Statuti e stabilì ulteriori norme (Breve Apost. Quod iam inde, 11-V-1895). San Pio X, con la Lettera Apostolica In praecipuis laudibus, 23-I-1904, confermò i privilegi ed il regolamento dell'Accademia. Gli Statuti furono emendati e completati con le approvazioni dei Romani Pontefici Benedetto XV [11-II-1916] e Pio XI che il 10-I-1934 accorpò a questa Accademia la Pontifica Accademia di Religione Cattolica la quale, in circostanze allora molto diverse, era stata fondata nel 1801 dal Rev.mo Giovanni Fortunato Zamboni. Mi è grato ricordare Achille Ratti (1882) e soprattutto Giovanni Battista Montini (1922), che, da giovani sacerdoti conseguirono in codesta Accademia Romana di San Tommaso, la Laurea in Filosofia tomistica e, poi, furono chiamati al Sommo Pontificato, assumendo i nomi di Pio XI e Paolo VI.

Per porre in atto i desideri manifestati nella mia Lettera Enciclica mi è sembrato opportuno rinnovare gli Statuti della Pontificia Accademia di San Tommaso, così da farne uno strumento efficace per la Chiesa e per tutta l'umanità. Nelle attuali circostanze culturali, precedentemente descritte, appare conveniente, anzi necessario, che codesta Accademia sia come un forum centrale ed internazionale per studiare meglio e più accuratamente la dottrina di San Tommaso in modo che il realismo metafisico dell'actus essendi, che pervade tutta la filosofia e la teologia del Dottore Angelico, possa entrare in dialogo con i molteplici impulsi della ricerca odierna e della dottrina.

Pertanto io, con piena consapevolezza e matura deliberazione, e nella pieenezza della mia Potestà Apostolica, in forza di questa Lettera, approvo in perpetuo gli Statuti della Pontificia Accademia di San Tommaso d'Aquino, legittimamente elaborati e di nuovo revisionati, e conferisco loro la forza dell'Apostolica approvazione.

5. La Pontificia Accademia Teologica.

Maestra di verità, la Chiesa ha coltivato, senza mai cessare in questo, lo studio della teologia e ha fatto sì che i chierici ed i fedeli, specialmente quelli chiamati al servizio della teologia, fossero veramente preparati. All'inizio del secolo XVIII, sotto gli auspici di Clemente XI, mio Predecessore, fu fondata nell'Urbe l'Accademia Teologica, come sede delle discipline sacre e nutrice degli spiriti nobili, in modo che quasi come da una sorgente scaturissero frutti abbondanti per la causa cattolica. Quindi il suddetto Sommo Pontefice, con Lettera del 23-IV-1718, istituì canonicamente una sede di studi e la ricolmò di privilegi. Benedetto XIII, altro mio Predecessore, che, mentre era cardinale, "summa cum animi [...] iucunditate" (cfr. Litt. Apost. 6-V-1726) frequentava le riunioni e gli esercizi della stessa Accademia, rifletteva su quanto splendore e decoro avrebbe arrecato non soltanto all'Alma città di Roma ma a tutto il mondo cristiano, se la stessa Accademia fosse stata potenziata da nuove e più valide forze, il cui impegno fosse più validamente sostenuto, in modo da compiere progressi continui" (cfr. ibid.). Quindi non solo approvò l'Accademia che Clemente XI aveva istituito ma anche la ricolmò della sua benevolenza e della sua munificenza. Riconoscendo, quindi, i frutti soddisfacenti ed abbondantissimi, prodotti dalla Accademia Teologica, Clemente XIV continuò ad assisterla con una non diversa munificenza e benevolenza. Tutto questo impegno fu ancora fatto proprio e perfezionato dal mio Predecessore Gregorio XVI che approvò, il 26-X-1838, con l'autorità Apostolica, gli Statuti saggiamente elaborati. Ora mi è sembrato necessario revisionare queste leggi, in modo che siano più adatte a ciò che richiede il nostro tempo. La missione principale della teologia, oggi, consiste nel promuovere il dialogo fra la Rivelazione e la filosofia, e nel presentarne una compenetrazione sempre più profonda. Accogliendo favorevolmente i voti che mi sono stati rivolti perché approvassi queste nuove leggi, e assecondandoli, voglio che questa egregia sede di studi cresca in qualità e per questo approvo, in forza di questa Lettera, ed in perpetuo, gli Statuti della Pontificia Accademia Teologica, legittimamente elaborati e di nuovo revisionati e conferisco loro la forza dell'Apostolica approvazione.

6. Tutto ciò che ho decretato in questa Lettera motu proprio data, ordino che abbia valore stabile e duraturo, non ostante qualsiasi cosa contraria.

INTER MUNERA ACADEMIARUM

1. Among the tasks of the academies founded over the centuries by the Roman Pontiffs, research in philosophy and theology holds pride of place.

In my recent Encyclical Letter Fides et ratio, I put great importance on the dialogue between theology and philosophy and clearly expressed my appreciation of the thought of St Thomas Aquinas, recognizing its enduring originality (cf. nn. 43-44).

St Thomas can rightly be called "an apostle of the truth" (n. 44). In fact, the insight of the Angelic Doctor consists in the certainty that there is a basic harmony between faith and reason (cf. n. 43). "It is necessary therefore that the mind of the believer acquire a natural, consistent and true knowledge of created realities – the world and man himself – which are also the object of divine Revelation. Still more, reason must be able to articulate this knowledge in concept and argument" (n. 66).

2. At the dawn of the third millennium, many cultural conditions have changed. Very significant progress has been made in the field of anthropology, but above all substantial changes have occurred in the very way of understanding the human being's condition in relation to God, to other human beings and to all creation. First of all, the greatest challenge of our age comes from a growing separation between faith and reason, between the Gospel and culture. The studies dedicated to this immense area are increasing day by day in the context of the new evangelization. Indeed, the message of salvation encounters many obstacles stemming from erroneous concepts and a serious lack of adequate formation.

3. A century after the promulgation of the Encyclical Letter Aeterni Patris of my Predecessor Leo XIII, which marked the beginning of a new development in the renewal of philosophical and theological studies and in the relationship between faith and reason, I would like to give a new impetus to the Pontifical Academies working in this area, in accordance with the thought and tendencies of the present day as well as the pastoral needs of the Church.

Therefore, recognizing the work carried out for centuries by the members of the Pontifical Roman Theological Academy and the Pontifical Academy of St Thomas Aquinas and the Catholic Religion, I have decided to renew the attached Statutes of these Pontifical Academies, so that with greater effectiveness they can increase their involvement in the philosophical and theological field, in order to further the pastoral mission of the Successor of Peter and of the universal Church.

4. The Pontifical Academy of St Thomas Aquinas.

“Doctor Humanitatis” is the name we give St Thomas Aquinas because he was always ready to receive the values of all cultures (Address to the Participants in the VIII International Thomistic Congress, 13 September 1980; Insegnamenti, III, 2 [1980] 609). In the cultural conditions of our time, it seems truly appropriate to develop further this part of Thomistic doctrine which deals with humanity, given that his assertions on the dignity of the human person and the use of his reason, in perfect harmony with the faith, make St Thomas a teacher for our time. Human beings, especially in the contemporary world, are concerned with this question: What is man? In employing this epithet, “Doctor Humanitatis”, I am following in the footsteps of the Second Vatican Ecumenical Council regarding the use of the teaching of Aquinas’ writings, both in the philosophical and theological training of priests (Decree Optatam totius, n. 16), and in deepening the harmony and agreement between faith and reason in universities (Declaration Gravissimum educationis, n. 10).

In my recently published Letter Fides et ratio, I wished to recall the enthusiasm of my Predecessor Leo XIII in promulgating the Encyclical Letter which began with the words Aeterni Patris (4 August 1879; ASS II [1878-1879] 97-115): “The great Pope revisited and developed the First Vatican Council’s teaching on the relationship between faith and reason, showing how philosophical thinking contributes in fundamental ways to faith and theological learning. More than a century later, many of the insights of his Encyclical Letter have lost none of their interest from either a practical or pedagogical point of view – most particularly, his insistence upon the incomparable value of the philosophy of St Thomas. A renewed insistence upon the thought of the Angelic Doctor seemed to Pope Leo XIII the best way to recover the practice of a philosophy consonant with the demands of faith” (Fides et ratio, n. 57). This truly memorable Letter was entitled Epistula Encyclica de Philosophia Christiana ad mentem Sancti Thomae Aquinatis Doctoris Angelici in Scholis Catholicis Instauranda.

The same Leo XIII created the Roman Academy of St Thomas Aquinas (Apostolic Letter Iampridem ad Em.mum Card. Antoninum De Luca, 15 October 1879), so that the recommendations of this Encyclical would be put into practice. The following year, delighted with the work begun, he wrote to the Cardinals responsible for the new Academy (Apost. Let., 21 November 1880). Fifteen years later he approved the Statutes and established further norms (Apost. Brief Quod iam inde, 9 May 1895). With the Apostolic Letter In praecipuis laudibus, 23 January 1904, St Pius X confirmed the Academy's privileges and regulations. The Statutes were amended and completed with the approval of the Roman Pontiffs Benedict XV (II February 1916) and Pius XI, who on 10 January 1934 combined this Academy with the Pontifical Academy of the Catholic Religion, which, in circumstances that were then very different, had been founded in 1801 by Fr Giovanni Fortunate Zamboni. I am pleased to recall Achille Ratti (1882) and especially Giovanni Battista Montini (1922), who, as young priests, obtained their doctorates in Thomistic philosophy at this Roman Academy of St Thomas and were later called to the Supreme Pontificate, taking the names of Pius XI and Paul VI.

To carry out the wishes expressed in my Encyclical Letter, I considered it opportune to revise the Statutes of the Pontifical Academy of St Thomas, in order to make it an effective instrument for the Church and for all humanity. In the cultural circumstances of the present day described above, it seems appropriate, indeed necessary, for this Academy to serve as a central and international forum for studying St Thomas' teaching better and more carefully, so that the metaphysical realism of the actus essendi which pervades all the Angelic Doctor's philosophy and theology can enter into dialogue with the many directions in today's research and doctrine.

Therefore, with knowledge and mature deliberation, and the fullness of my Apostolic authority, by virtue of this Letter I approve in perpetuum the Statutes of the Pontifical Academy of St Thomas Aquinas, duly drawn up and newly revised, granting them the force of Apostolic approval.

5. The Pontifical Theological Academy.

The Church, teacher of truth, has ceaselessly encouraged the study of theology and seen that both the clergy and faithful, especially those called to the service of theology, have been properly trained. At the beginning of the 18th century, under the auspices of my Predecessor Clement XII, the Theological Academy was founded in Rome as a centre for the sacred disciplines and an enrichment for noble spirits, so that it might serve as a source of abundant fruits for the Catholic cause. Therefore, the above-mentioned Supreme Pontiff, with his Letter of 23 April 1718, canonically established a study centre and endowed it with privileges. Benedict XIII, another of my Predecessors, attended the meetings and activities of this Academy while he was a Cardinal “summa cum animi ... iucunditate” (cf. Apost. Let., 6 May 1726), and reflected on “how much splendour and prestige it would bring not only to the beloved city of Rome, but to the whole Christian world, if this same Academy were strengthened with new and more effective support, so that it might be consolidated and make ever greater progress” (cf. ibid.). Thus, not only did he approve the Academy which Clement XI had established, but also bestowed his favour and generosity upon it. Therefore, recognizing the satisfying and very abundant fruits produced by the Theological Academy, Clement XIV continued to assist it with no less favour and generosity. This work was taken up and completed by my Predecessor Gregory XVI, who, on 26 October 1838, approved the wisely drafted Statutes with his Apostolic authority. It has now seemed necessary to me to revise these laws so that they may be better suited to the requirements of our time. The principal mission of theology today consists in promoting dialogue between Revelation and the doctrine of the faith, and in offering an ever deeper understanding of it. Graciously acceding to the requests I received to approve these new laws, and desiring that this distinguished study centre continue to grow in stature, therefore, by virtue of this Letter, I approve in perpetuum the Statutes of the Pontifical Theological Academy, duly drawn up and newly revised, granting them the force of Apostolic approval.

6. Everything I have decreed in this Letter given motu proprio I order to be established and ratified, all things to the contrary notwithstanding.

Given in Rome, at St Peter's, on 28 January, the memorial of St Thomas Aquinas, in the year 1999, the twenty-first of my Pontificate.
